

Foster or virtual parent a homeless hound

"Nothing in canine rescue work is more rewarding than providing safe, loving homes for hounds while they await their adoptions. Fosters are an absolutely essential part of helping us save and rehome these wonderful dogs."

-- Christine Williams, BROOD President

Open Up Your Heart and Your Home to a Needy Hound

Most bassets come to us as strays that have lost their homes. Some come from families that no longer want them, maybe because they are no longer puppies, or because they shed, or the family is moving away. Some arrive because their beloved owned has died.

BROOD can usually find forever homes for all the hounds in its care, but it takes time. Our priority is making the right match between the dog and the new family so the dog will not have to suffer the stress and trauma of losing another home.

Fostering – a Vital Part of Rescue

Fostering is one of the most important (and urgently needed) services that a BROOD volunteer can provide. It is so rewarding to take in a dejected, uncertain hound and help that dog turn into a happy, adoptable pet.

As a foster, you will provide love and emotional support for the basset during this crucial transitional time. In addition, you will offer important feedback about the dog's behavior and needs so BROOD can ensure a good adoptive match.

Virtual Fosters

Can't foster at home? You can still make a huge contribution to helping us save these dogs by becoming a virtual foster. As a virtual foster, you will help fund daily expenses for needy hounds while we keep them kenneled. Virtual fostering can be donated at $10 a day for as many days as you wish to donate.
